

MANAGEMENT TRANSITION AT KULLUNA IRADA

The Board of Directors of Kulluna Irada announces that the organization's current Managing Director, Ms. Diana Menhem, will conclude her executive duties after more than five years in the position, while maintaining an active engagement with the organization.

During her tenure, Ms. Menhem played a leading role in overseeing the organization's executive and operational activities and expanding its policy, advocacy, and public engagement work.

The Board expressed its sincere gratitude and appreciation to Ms. Menhem for her dedication and contributions, commending her pivotal role in strengthening the organization's work and wishing her continued success in the next chapter of her career.

Ms. Menhem expressed pride in all that had been achieved during her tenure as Managing Director and in Kulluna Irada's role in Lebanon's public life, particularly as a prominent voice advocating for sovereignty, reform, and state-building.

She added: "Kulluna Irada has reached important milestones with determination and competence. Today, it continues its journey with confidence and optimism towards the future and towards the Lebanon to which we all aspire. I wish the organization every success as I embark on a new chapter."

During the transitional period, the organization's Executive Committee will assume responsibility for overseeing executive functions until a new Managing Director is appointed, thereby ensuring the continuity of the organization's activities and the advancement of its objectives.
